

Question but no answer.
Or only answers but no
questions

Get This:

“
to find it, define the question
and refer to the un-questioned.
”

Personal Finance

My imaginary worlds I escape into My myths. My black hole.

Every object with mass has one, if you think too much about it, you will see it. Every object of interest has a black hole. The whole world is a surface riddled with black holes, or pores. They suck you in. They pull you in all different directions.

REVIEWS

...you would do better, at least no worse, to obliterate texts than to blacken margins, to fill in the holes of words till all is black and flat and the whole ghastly business looks like what it is, senseless, speechless, issueless misery.
Samuel Beckett From Molloy, Part I

The first [question] is asked when it's weak:
WHAT KIND OF AN IDEA ARE YOU?
Are you the kind that compromises, does deals, accommodates itself to society, aims to find a niche, to survive; or are you the cussed, bloody-minded, ramrod-backed type of damnfool notion that would rather break than sway with the breeze? The kind that will almost certainly, ninety-nine times out of hundred, be smashed to bits; but, the 100th time, will change the world.
Salman Rushdie From The Satanic Verses

Cover design by MySelf

MySelf Do I Draw From The Blackness In My World Or Yours?

#1 Bestseller

ALL BY MYSELF

DO I DRAW

Logic Cannot Reach The Everyday Life.

FROM THE

BLACKNESS

IN MY WORLD

OR YOURS?

Staff Pick

I'm lost

But all they are all there scraping along to sneeze out a likelihood that will solve and salve life's robulous rebus
(12.32-33)

-- James Joyce, Finnegan's Wake

Fig. 11.5 Book from Self Help Section with accompanying Staff Pick comment